"New Face of the Roofs"

ROOF WATERPROOFING SHEETING

Roof waterproofing covers are also called roof moisture barrier and vapor balancing covers. The most important feature of these covers is that they are produced with nano technology, so that they can breathe and do not leak water. The film layer, which is in the middle of this 3-layer cover, is the layer giving this feature. In accordance with the details of the project to be applied and customer request, it is produced in different weights.
