ROOF RIDGE TILE CLIP

Roof ridge tile clip; roof ridge tiles used in the installation of an accessory. Roof ridge tiles are used at points where they overlap each other. Once the ridge tile is in place, it is screwed from the rear of the ridge tile to the mounting strip under the ridge tile and compresses one side by pressing on the ridge tile. Then the ridge tile which is placed on the back row is fixed and the roof ridge tile clip is fixed in between. In the last step, the tip of the clip remaining on the end of the ridge tile on which it is placed is fixed to the ridge tile by bending it with a hammer. The roof ridge tiles provide high resistance to storms and similar climatic conditions after installation with clips.
